

Poetic Forms / Structured Documents

System_ HW06_ Isla

가시리 (Gashiri)

3	가	시	리		3	가	시	리		2	잇	고
버리고 가시리 잇고
위		증	즐	가		대	평	성	대
3	날	러	는			4	어	찌	살	라		2	하	고
버리고 가시리 잇고
위		증	즐	가		대	평	성	대

- Meter of the line is 3 feet, and 3.3.2 syllables are iterating.
- Meter in this poem is usually 3.3.2 but there are some exceptions because most of the poems in this period were sung by commoners.
- The sentence appears repeatedly, keeping the rhythm alive and also indicating the woman's paradoxical feelings.
- A rhythmic foramtion through a repetitive clause.

가
(ga)

One letter is one syllable in Korean.
A mixture of 1(or 2) consonants and 1 vowel.

Would you go, Would you go.

Would you go and leave me here alone.

위 증즐가(imitating the sound of an instrument) I hope the country will flourish.

How could I live on my own.

If you leave me here alone.

위 증즐가(imitating the sound of an instrument) I hope the country will flourish.

Example of own poem

Carnation Daffodil Lilac → 3 meter of line with 3, 3, 2 syllables

Geranium Goldenrod Snowflake

tla la la what an ugly world → 8 syllables, Paradox

Celosia Lantana Iris

Lavender Pointsettia Daisy

tla la la what an ugly world → A repetitive sentence for rhythm

Game

Rules :

(Similar to Apples to Apples)
Select a pair of cards (one 2 syllable card and one 3 syllable card) from your hand that you think create best paradox with a card choisen by the judge. If the judge picks your pair, you win that round.

